CHURCH COMMISSION IN THE DOMINION

Inter-Denominational Organization Will Deal With Post-War Problems

Toronto, Nov. 22.—Representatives of all the Protestant churches of Canada met in the Anglican synod office here yesterday for the purpose of organizing an inter-denominational commission on matters relating to the war and demobilization. It was decided to call the new organization the Federal War Service Commission of the Churches in Canada.

Bishop Roper, of Ottawa, was elected chairman, and Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church, and Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant, chairman of the Presbyterian War Commission, were elected vice-chairmen. The secretary is Rev. W. T. Gunn, representing the Congregational Commission. Rev. M. C. McLean, representing the Baptist Military Board, was elected treasurer.

The Commission will deal with questions referred to it by the different churches, and will take action only on matters upon which unity is assured.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—At yesterday afternoon's session of the Dominion Educational Association conference, the delegation which will wait upon the Government in regard to federal aid for the purpose of furthering technical education in Canada was appointed. Dr. Robinson was placed on the delegation to represent British Columbia.

He was present in the Admiral's cabin during the conference. There will be fifteen figures in the painting.

CANADA'S RECORD DURING THE WAR

Statement Issued at Ottawa Shows What Dominion Did in Field

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—The following statement, showing what has been accomplished from a military point of view by the Dominion since the beginning of the war, was issued yesterday afternoon by the Militia Department.

When Canada entered the war on August 4, 1914, she had a permanent force of only 3,000 men and an active militia of 60,000. When hostilities ceased on November 11, 1918, Canada had sent overseas 418,980 soldiers. At first Canada supplied a division. This was increased, until by 1916 she had in France an army corps of four divisions, a cavalry brigade and numerous other services, such as line of communication troops, railway troops and forestry corps.

On September 30, 1918, the Canadian troops in France numbered 154,350. The cavalry brigade included a strong draft furnished by the Royal North-West Mounted Police.

The Canadian corps in the United Kingdom and France in operating railway lines and in cutting down forests and mulling the timber numbered about 50,000.

Of the Royal Air Force, some 14,000 or 15,000 were raised and trained in Canada. In addition many joined the Royal Air Force after going overseas in the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

By October 31, 1918, the casualties numbered more than 211,000. There had been more than 60,000 deaths, 152,000 had been wounded, and when hostilities ceased the prisoners of war numbered 2,800.

The roll of Canadian battles is:

1915.

Second Battle of Ypres (April and May).

1916.

St. Elloi (April 3 and 19).

Sanctuary Wood (June 2 and 3).

Hooge (July 6, 13 and 14).

Battle of Somme (September, October and November).

1917.

Battle of Vimy Ridge (April 9 and 13).

Battle of Arras and Fresnoy (April 28 and 29 and May 3).

Battle of Lens (June).

Battle of Hill 70 (August 15).

Battle of Passchendaele (October 25, November 12).

1918.

Second Battle of Somme (March and April).

Battle of Amiens (August 13).

Capture of Monchy-le-Freux (August 26, 28).

Breaking of Queant-Drocourt line (September 3 and 4).

Crossing of Canal du Nord and Bourlon Wood (September 27, 29).

Encirclement and capture of Cambrai (October 1, 9).

Capture of Douai (October 18).

Capture of Denain (October 20).

Encirclement and capture of Valenciennes (October 25 and November 2).

Advance and capture of Mons (November 7-11).

LLOYD GEORGE ISSUES ELECTION ADDRESS

Speaks of Trade Preference and Reform of House of Lords

London, Nov. 22.—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George and Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law have issued a long election address to the country. For the most part it follows the lines of speeches made recently by the two political leaders in outlining proposals for a trade preference to the Dominions and Colonies. It says, however, that until the country has returned to normal industrial conditions it would be premature to prescribe a fiscal policy intended for permanence.

"We must endeavor," the address says, "to reduce the war debt in such a manner as to inflict the least injury on industry and credit. The military institutions of the country must necessarily be dependent upon the needs of the Empire, its prospective requirements and the necessities of the league for the preservation of peace."

"It will be the duty of the new Government to remove all existing inequalities of law as between men and women and create a second Chamber based upon direct contact with the people."

"There can be no political peace in the Kingdom or Empire while the Irish question remains unsettled. Therefore, all practical steps toward a settlement must be explored. There are two paths, however, which are closed, namely, one leading to the complete severance of Ireland from the Empire, and the other to forcible subjection of the six Ulster counties to a Home Rule Parliament against their will."

BRITISH WOMEN MAY GO HOME FROM THIS CONTINENT

New York, Nov. 22.—The British Consul-General has been directed by a cable dispatch from the Foreign Office at London to remove the restrictions in existence since April, 1915, preventing women who are British subjects from crossing the ocean to England, Scotland, Ireland or Wales. This does not apply, it is explained, to women who wish to visit their families, for nightseeing purposes, but refers only to those desiring to see their families abroad.

Voyagers will have to give fourteen days' notice to the United States immigration authorities at the point of departure after their passports have been issued at the consulate bureau.

Passenger agents of the various steamship lines say they do not expect that tourist travel to Europe will be permitted by the United States and Allied Governments until 1920, because the steamships will be required for other purposes.

One of the best-informed steamer passenger agents said that there were at least 20,000 men and women waiting in Ireland to come over.

OTTAWA LEGISLATION FOR LAND SETTLEMENT

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—The introduction of bills at the next session of Parliament to enable the land colonization and soldiers' settlement schemes, discussed at the Conference of the Provinces, Premier here, to be brought into effect is considered likely.

The first of these projects, which was introduced to the conference by Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, involves the purchase by the Provinces with money lent to them by the Dominion, of privately-owned undeveloped land, and the sale of this land on easy terms, to settlers.

The second scheme, suggested by Hon. Arthur Meighen, Minister of the Interior, provides for giving additional aid to returned soldiers settling on the land.

At the session yesterday Hon. Gordon Robertson, Minister of Labor, brought up the question of technical education. In the discussion that followed the consensus of opinion appeared to be that the Provinces should control this matter themselves. They might be assisted by the Dominion with subsidies and grants when necessary.

Consideration of a scheme for the housing of workmen also took up some of the time of the session.

GEN. CRITCHLEY IS BACK IN CANADA

Winnipeg, Nov. 22.—After an absence of four years, most of which time was spent on the front in France and Flanders, Brigadier-General Albert C. Critchley, D. S. O., returned to the country last night. Prior to the war General Critchley was a lieutenant in the Strathcona Horse, which regiment he joined in the summer of 1910, proceeding overseas in 1914. He was twice wounded in battle. Last year General Critchley was commandant of the school of instruction of the Royal Flying Corps and officer in charge of the training of cadets with the rank of brigadier-general. In England General Critchley is spoken of as the "youngest brigadier-general in the British army."

The father of General Critchley is a well-known rancher in the Calgary district, but is at present attached to the Canadian Headquarters Staff in England as an officer supervising horse-manship.

FRANCE INVESTIGATES WHETHER EX-KAISER CAN BE EXTRADITED

Paris, Nov. 22.—Premier Clemenceau has asked Charles Lyon-Caen, dean of the faculty of law at the University of Paris, to give an opinion on the question whether extradition of Wilhelm Hohenzollern, the former German Kaiser, can be demanded. Owing to the complexity of the question, M. Lyon-Caen has asked that he be given time to prepare a reply, La Liberte says.

Edouard Clunet, the leading French authority on international law, has given it as his opinion that it is impossible to demand the former Kaiser's extradition.

In discussing the position of the former German Kaiser The Temps says: "The Government of Holland has always the power to expel an undesirable. Let it use its power."

Washington, Nov. 22.—The loss of 145 American passenger and merchant vessels of 354,449 tons, and 775 lives, through acts of the enemy during the period from the beginning of the world war to the cessation of hostilities on November 11 is shown by figures made public by the Department of Commerce's bureau of navigation.

The report does not include several vessels the loss of which has not been established as due to acts of the enemy. Nineteen vessels and sixty-seven lives were lost through use of torpedoes, mines and gunfire prior to the entrance of the United States into the war.

Mother, whose hands rock the cradle, often needs more than ordinary food to help maintain the blood-quality and strength and to assure adequate nourishment to the child. ## PREDICTION MADE BY ROBERTS FULFILLED

Late Field-Marshal Foretold
War and Marshal Foch's
Success

Montreal, Nov. 22.—A startling and accurate prophecy made in Canada by the late Lord Roberts is referred to by L'Evenement, of Quebec. The paper says Lord Roberts, when in Canada ten years ago, stated on one occasion: "They refuse to believe me, and we are asleep, under false security, for I do not hesitate to affirm that we will have a frightful war in Europe, and Britain and France will have the hardest experience of their existence. They, in fact, will see defeat very near, but the war will be finally won by the genius of a French General named Ferdinand Foch, a professor in a military school in Paris."

The newspaper says Lord Roberts' prophecy was heard by a number of people and that the Duke of Devonshire has repeated the prophecy, due to its fulfillment in the late Field-Marshal.

SAYS WAGE STANDARD MUST BE KEPT UP

Baker Declares There Must Be
No Depression in States

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 22.—Secretary of War Baker, in an address here last night before the annual meeting of the National Consumers' League, of which he is president, said that in the reconstruction days of peace there must be no depression in wages in the United States and that the high standard of living which obtained during the war must be maintained. Unless a better understanding and a more unselfish mode of general living resulted from the war, the fruits of victory would be lost and the sacrifice of men and money would be in vain, said Mr. Baker. The reason victory came, he said, was because the American people were strong and virile, and in a measure to laws which the Consumers' League had placed on the statute books. "If we had overworked American toilers and had taken children into workshops and factories, had there not been a rising standard of living in the United States for those who toil, we should not have had the strong minds and bodies with which to meet the emergency just passed," said Mr. Baker.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Wage increases were announced to-day by the United States War Labor Board for interurban trainmen at Portland, Ore. Interurban trainmen employed by the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company were given a scale ranging from forty cents per hour for passenger brakemen to sixty cents per hour for night yard switch crews, with fifty-four cents an hour for passenger trainmen and fifty-six cents for freight trainmen. Extra work and overtime is to be paid for at time and half after ten hours. An examiner of the Labor Board will be kept at Portland to enforce the Board's award, which takes effect as from July 17, 1914. The award says the increase in wages will add substantially to the operating cost of the company and the Board recommends a reconsideration by proper authorities looking to an increase in passenger fares. The Board also fixed a new scale of higher wages for employees of the Butte, Mont., Electric Railway Company, ranging from sixty-one to sixty-five cents an hour. The award takes effect as of August 2 last, and the company must pay the retroactive increases before February 1. The Board recommends an advance in passenger fares to pay the increased operating cost.

KING PAID VISIT TO U. S. FLAGSHIP

Americans Gave Rousing
Cheers for Sovereign Shortly Before German Surrender

Edinburgh, Nov. 22.—King George's visit to the American flagship New York, in British waters, on Wednesday, was a notable occasion. British destroyers were streaming out of a harbor to take up advanced positions to act as a screen for the Grand Fleet at the surrender of the German fleet on Thursday and the portentousness of their mission gave a note of solemnity to the gala scene on the New York. As soon as the Royal party stepped aboard the Royal Ensign was hoisted to the masthead.

This was the first time since the United States entered the war that any ceremonial punctilio had been observed.

King George was touched by the sight of his standard snapping in the breeze above the Stars and Stripes and expressed his appreciation. King George, the Prince of Wales, Admiral Beatty and other members of the visiting party were received by Admirals Rodman and Sims and other officers of the American fleet. During his call King George voiced the brotherly feelings of the twin on a with the suggestion that arrangements might well be made for joint manoeuvres every year by the American and British fleets. His proposal was quickly seconded by the American officers.

As the King entered the Royal barge an order came from the officers on the bridge to the sailors and marines for three cheers for the King of Britain. The cheers were given with such a will that they brought an answering cheer from the men on the distant ships of the American squadron.

VANCOUVER DOCTOR ENDED HIS LIFE

Vancouver, Nov. 22.—Following an attack of delirium, during which he had been confined in a straitjacket, Dr. F. T. Hartman, a practicing physician of Vancouver, committed suicide in the General Hospital by cutting his throat with the blade of a safety razor. Dr. Hartman had suffered from influenza and pneumonia, and on Tuesday became violent, attacking a nurse and an orderly. On Wednesday the patient appeared rational though very weak, and the restraint of the straitjacket was removed. Dr. Hartman took up his practice here three months ago. He came from Everett, Wash., where he had practised for ten years, previous to which he had lived at Stanwood, Wash. His widow and three children are here.

LICHNOWSKY ASKS CLEMENCY FOR GERMANY

Amsterdam, Nov. 21.—Via London, Nov. 22.—Prince Lichnowsky, former German Ambassador to Britain, in the latest German appeal for clemency for Germany, in The Berlin Vorwaerts, declares: "The conditions of the armistice were inspired by a spirit of revenge and will lead to starvation anarchy, chaos and the spread of Russian tendencies, which are the most dangerous of the enemies of democracy and freedom. The overwhelming majority of Germans did not desire the war and earnestly wish for reconciliation. A cruel exploitation of our present situation would endanger the ideals of a League of Nations. I do not appeal to pity, but to perspicacity."

BRITISH PARLIAMENT PROROGUED YESTERDAY

London, Nov. 22.—Parliament was prorogued yesterday. The King's Speech, read by commission owing to his absence in Scotland, expressed "humble thanks to Almighty God for the success with which it has pleased Him to crown our arms."

The speech ran in part: "The exertions which have carried us to victory must in nowise be abated or slackened until the ravages of war are repaired and the fabric of our national prosperity is restored. Through the extension of the suffrage which this Parliament has effected, all classes of my people will have the opportunity of inspiring and guiding this beneficent undertaking. I trust the spirit of unity which has enabled us to surmount the perils of war will not be wanting in the no less arduous task of establishing on the ruins of the old order of liberty the common welfare of my people."

CANADA'S ARMY.

Canada's military contribution to the victory of the Allies, as reviewed in a statement issued at Ottawa yesterday, forms one of the most impressive chapters of the record of the last four years and until the end of time will be a source of lofty pride and gratitude to this country.

From the early months of the war the Dominion, which before 1914 had little more than an organization of militia, was destined to become a factor in the field of an importance out of all proportion to the number of its forces. In its first serious engagement with the enemy, the Second Battle of Ypres, the Canadian citizen soldiery not only saved the road to Calais but averted the envelopment of the entire front in Northern France.

Never did a field force untried in war face so hard a test. It was the first time poisonous gases were employed in battle and our troops were absolutely without protection from the deadly fumes. And never was the enemy so certain of success. He counted on an easy conquest over the recently transformed civilians of Canada in any case and, to his mind, his surprise gas weapon made the result doubly safe. Nor have the Allies ever been confronted with a more critical situation than that which was saved by the young Canadian expeditionary force, which had crossed from Canada to England just six months before and a considerable proportion of which prior to the outbreak of war had scarcely handled a gun.

The Second Battle of Ypres was the first course of the bitter lesson the enemy was to learn from the Canadian army. The splendid unit which covered itself with glory there was the nucleus of what was to become a fighting organization unsurpassed in Europe, an army which, under Sir Arthur Currie's brilliant leadership, was to win some of the most important victories of the war. Its colors were to bear the names of Hooge, Sanctuary Wood, Vimy Ridge, Arleux and Fresnoy, Hill 70, Lens, the Somme, Passchendaele, and the record of the series of great achievements which began with the Battle of Amiens and ended with the triumphal entry into Mons.

It is well known that for months before the great Allied offensive this summer the Canadian army had been chosen by Sir Douglas Haig to be the spear-head of the attack on the British front, and the other day Sir Arthur Currie stated that his troops had understood that when the time came for a counter-measure they would form the head of attack because of their high efficiency as storming troops and their record unmarred by a single failure. This role was filled by them in the battle of Amiens when they drove fourteen miles to Chaumes in three days, thereby creating the rupture upon which depended largely all subsequent operations on the front. They then were transferred to the Arras region in preparation for an attack upon the Drocourt-Queant switch. Again they broke through, uncovering Cambrai and Douai, and with the British, Australian and New Zealand troops who went over the Hindenburg Line, farther south, laid the foundation for the victories won afterwards.

Canada's contribution to the vital air service was as efficient and formidable as her contribution to the armed land forces. Possibly a third of the squadrons in France and Belgium are composed of men from Canada and at one time this proportion was twice as large. The squadrons commanded by Colonel Bishop and Major Colishaw, just to mention two, time and again have won the high praise of the British and French military authorities.

In these days of gigantic military effort it may be forgotten that the force sent overseas by Canada is larger than any army which ever took the field for the Empire up to this war—much larger than the armies commanded by Wellington in the Peninsula Wars or at Waterloo, or the expeditionary force to the Crimea or the army commanded by the Duke of Marlborough in his great campaigns in Flanders. And its casualties bear the same proportion. Out of 418,980 officers and men sent overseas it had more than 211,000 killed, wounded and missing up to October 31, or more than fifty per cent of the total, and over twice as many as the United States has suffered during the time its troops have been at the battlefield. The Canadian army indeed has played a glorious part in making the world safe for democracy.

THE WAR PRISONERS.

The condition in which Allied prisoners-of-war are being turned loose by the Germans has drawn from the British Government a stern warning that unless there is an immediate improvement the circumstance will be taken into account in considering the food requirements of the German people. This final chapter of the horrible record of Germany's treatment of her war prisoners shows how far the chief enemy state is from the real elements of reform. It shows how thorough and drastic must be the process of regeneration in that country, how strong the ruling passion in Prussianism remains even at this stage of German disaster.

Germany's transformation so far is only superficial. It is based upon the failure of her monarchical despots and military masters to win the war, not upon her resentment of the wrong-doing into which they led her. That failure brought in its train fear of consequences, fear that the Allies might do to Germany what she did to France and Belgium, fear that she would have to pay the enormous indemnities she intended to grind from her foes. This, and the bitterness and humiliation of defeat itself, caused the German people to demand the deposition of their former leaders.

They thought, and still think, that, having got rid of the men who failed to deliver the goods for them by appointing men like Ebert and Scheidemann in their places they can persuade the Allies to moderate their terms, in fact to let them clear on easy conditions. But cruelty having become an instinct with them, they could not refrain from giving their hapless prisoners a final demonstration of the fact; they were unable even to make a show of possessing a spark of human sympathy and kindness. The prisoners were helpless and in their power. They had to be liberated under duress, so the pretence of complete reform had to be discarded long enough to permit them to subject their victims to a last instalment of savagery.

Germany will not be de-prussianized until she has had a complete upheaval which will bury every vestige of the system which has debauched her people, with every one of its apostles. She must be purified by intense suffering for only by that means can her reform be anything but a mask of cunning and treachery. The nation which could be guilty of such hellish cruelty as that which Germany inflicted upon her war prisoners is almost hopeless forever, and the people who could tolerate that cruelty under their very eyes without fierce protest must carry within their breasts hearts turned to stone.

The reckoning of the Allies with Germany, no matter what form she may assume, must have among its principal features the case of her treatment of her prisoners-of-war, the shooting, beating and starving of tens of thousands of them to death, the exposure of more thousands to pestilence and the innumerable other forms of savage persecution which only German "kultur" could devise. The Allies must have every German officer and official connected with those crimes and punish them as fittingly as their laws will permit. This must be an essential part of Germany's expiation and regeneration.

OUR DEBT TO ITALY.

Italy's refusal to be a party to a Teutonic programme of aggression prevented Germany springing upon the Allies in 1913. Her prompt notification to France that she would not stand with her partners in the Triple Alliance in August, 1914, and that French troops could be moved safely from the Franco-Italian border, enabled de Castelnau to win the battle of Nancy and made the victory at the Marne possible. Italy's magnificent services for the common cause since are well known. Her campaigns have been carried out under incredible difficulties and her losses have been enormous. These facts and the sufferings of the people of Venetia overrun and ravaged by the ruthless foe should be remembered to-morrow when an appeal will be made to our citizens for aid for the Italian Red Cross work in the devastated districts.

THE GERMAN COLONIES.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies has informed the Agent-General of New South Wales that the British Government will support the claims of the Dominions respecting the German colonies and that Mr. Lloyd George already has made this clear to the representatives of the Allies in Paris.

This question, like all other international questions arising from the war, will be settled by the Allies in common just as they have fought and suffered in common, fixed the terms of an armistice in common and will make peace in common. The basis of its settlement must be the best interests of the inhabitants of the colonies with due regard to the welfare of the world.

On that basis alone the colonies cannot be restored to Germany. She has shown herself utterly unfitted to control them, and the world has no other standard of judgment in her case than experience. Apart from the fact that her only object in obtaining them was to facilitate her war against the world, her record of pitiless cruelty to the natives, which was common knowledge long before this war, makes it absolutely necessary that the future of the colonies be entrusted to other hands.

There really is not much ground for the anxiety of Australia and South Africa regarding this matter. About the last thing the Allies would dream of would be the return of the colonies to Germany, even if there were a Germany to return them to, and more remote still would be the prospect of their return to Prussia if there were no Germany. In all probability the colonies will be placed under British protection with special regard to the interests of the British Dominions nearest them. Any other arrangement for their administration would be impracticable.

GERMANY, AS NAVAL POWER, CEASED TO EXIST WHEN GREATEST SUR-RENDER OCCURRED

The northern column steamed on to the regular anchorages higher up the Firth. Inspection parties from the Grand Fleet boarded the German craft to make sure that all conditions of the armistice were observed. The enemy vessels will be interned in Scapa Flow. Part of the crews will be retained for maintenance work, and the remainder will be returned to Germany soon.

Historic Signal.

Admiral Beatty's historic signal after the German fleet had been moored at the appointed place was: "The German flag is to be hoisted again without permission."

American Plans.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Until every German warship covered by the armistice actually is in the hands of the Allies, Secretary Daniels said to-day, the Navy Department will continue to operate under war regulations. He has cabled Admiral Benson and Vice-Admiral Sims, however, directing that they advise him officially the moment the naval terms of the armistice have been accomplished.

When this message is received, Mr. Daniels will issue orders removing many, if not all, of the restrictions which have been placed on the navy personnel. Naval authorities here estimate that nearly half the German undersea fleet has been turned over.

PROGRAMME OUTLINED BY BRITISH COLUMBIA MEMBERS OF COMMONS

mission. It was felt by the Members that it was imperative that a representative of this province should be on the Commission in view of the peculiar position of the province in being the gateway of the whole of Canada to Siberia. A resolution was sent forward to the Government.

Further in connection with the trans-Pacific trade question, a resolution to the effect that in view of the rapid development and expansion of this trade the time has come for the Government to inaugurate a definite, progressive policy of port development for British Columbia ports was passed.

Natural Resources.

Consideration then was given to the necessity for the development of the natural resources of the province, both from the standpoint of increasing production and for giving employment to returned soldiers. A special resolution was passed to the effect that the Government provide for the establishment of a publicly-owned copper refinery on this coast. It was felt that the retention of such an industry would encourage the establishment of manufacturing plants for the production of finished articles.

Silver, Lead and Zinc.

It also was urged that such assistance be given as is necessary to encourage the development of the metal resources of the province, particularly in reference to silver, lead and zinc. The meeting suggested that the utilization of this ore be made the subject of consideration by the Scientific Research Commission which is now in existence in Canada. In normal times there is difficulty in utilizing such ore owing to the separation problem and the low price of zinc.

Returned Soldiers.

Returned-soldier problems were given exhaustive consideration. It was urged that necessary public works be commenced as early as possible to give employment to returned men. It was suggested that the Government might operate some of the basic industries and employ only returned men. Another point made was that measures should be adopted to prevent the cessation of operation of productive industries. In order to do this, facilities might be established to store non-perishable materials.

It was noted that franchisees and privileges within the gift of the Government should be reserved for citizens, preferably for men who have seen active service.

The need for the appointment of a definite authority in each district or centre of population to deal officially with returned men and provide them with information was pointed out.

Land Settlement.

On the land settlement question representations are being made to have consideration given to the peculiar conditions of this province, and to have the land settlement regulations revised the better to suit the conditions here. It was felt that the regulations were drafted more particularly to suit the prairie provinces.

The members also sent a memorandum to the Government drawing attention to the thousands of acres of withheld because they are Indian reserves or other public lands. They felt these lands should be opened up.

The suggestion was made that the civil service regulations be amended to consider the return of soldiers who have passed the matriculation examinations to the civil service to escape the lower grade.

It also was suggested that a census of labor in this province be taken, with a view to placing a definite percentage of returned men in the industries.

Fisheries.

Deep concern over the fisheries question was expressed and a resolution was passed urging that without delay the salmon spawning streams and areas be cleared and protected, and that the present excessive fishing be restricted. Also, that encouragement be given to the establishment of citizen fishing settlements on the coast and that the preference be given in all cases to returned men in the issuance of fishing licenses and privileges.

Other problems so pressing will be given consideration at a conference to be held later, probably before Christmas.

WORK OF U. S. AIRMEN.

American Headquarters in France, Nov. 21.—(Via London, Nov. 22.)—When hostilities were suspended, American aviators had destroyed 661 more German aeroplanes and thirty-five more German balloons than the Americans had lost. The total number of enemy planes destroyed by the Americans was 926 and the total number of balloons destroyed twenty-three. Two hundred and fifty-five American planes and thirty-eight balloons were destroyed by the enemy.

SCHOONER CASCO, LEAKING, ARRIVES AT SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—Robert Louis Stevenson's staunch schooner of deathless fame, the Casco, is in port here after her most eventful voyage. The craft, which the famous Scottish author chartered thirty-three years ago to explore the South Pacific, arrived here in a leaking, almost sinking condition, six men having constantly manned the pumps for forty-two days, while Mrs. Percy E. Troup, the bride of the Casco's captain, who formerly was Miss Flora Goeltner, of Tacoma, cheered them with song.

The Casco, now owned by H. O. Wick, of Seattle, left Suva sixty-five days ago with sixty tons of copra. Heavy weather was encountered and the skipper, mate, cook and sailors took turns at the pumps.

Before leaving Suva the silver ship, as the natives of Fakarava called the Casco, lay becalmed. While fishing, Mrs. Troup was pulled overboard by a ten-foot shark. Captain Troup plunged to her rescue and stabbed the shark with a knife. Captain Troup had the shark's white teeth made into a gold mounted necklace for his bride.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Ice Cream

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Garis.)

One evening, as Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, was sitting in his hollow stump bungalow, reading the paper, while Nurse Jane Fussy Wuzzey, his muskrat lady housekeeper, was darning a hole in the new dispan, there came a rat-a-tat-tat knock at the front door.

"I wonder who that is?" said Uncle Wiggily.

"I guess it's—somebody!" whispered Nurse Jane.

"I think so myself," went on the bunny. "I'll go look."

And when Mr. Longears opened the door there was Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boys.

"We came over to see you, Uncle Wiggily," said Johnnie. "Being as it's Friday night we don't have to do any home school work, so we came over."

"Glad to see you!" said Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose most invitingly like and cordial. "Come right in. Company has come to see us!" he called to Nurse Jane.

"Good!" answered the muskrat lady. "Bring 'em right in!"

So, Johnnie and Billie, the squirrel boys, scampered in. Then the bell rang again, and there was Sammy and Susie Littletail, the rabbits, and after them came Lulu, Alice and Jimmy Whittlewobble, the ducks, and Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dogs.

"Well, my goodness me, sakes alive and some pepper hash!" laughed Nurse Jane. "This is quite a party."

"But I hope you aren't going to give us that to eat!" spoke Sammie Littletail.

"What to eat?" asked Nurse Jane, puzzled like.

"Pepper hash," answered Sammie. "Mother told me if I came over here, to be sure and not ask for anything to eat. But if you want to give us something I can't stop you, 'cause you're bigger than I am; aren't you, Nurse Jane?" Only Uncle Wiggily said the muskrat lady. "I wouldn't give you that to eat, Wiggily," she went on to the bunny rabbit gentleman. "I think you'll have to go for some ice cream. This is an unexpected party, and just some cookies and cake, which I have in the house, won't be enough of a treat. Go for some ice cream down to the corner."

"I will!" said the bunny.

"And we'll come with you and help carry it!" chattered Jacko and Jumpo Kinkytail, the monkey boys.

So, off started Uncle Wiggily with them and soon all three were at the ice cream store.

"The only kind of cream I have in is bricks," said the cow lady, who kept the store. "I haven't any of the loose kind."

"Ice cream bricks will be all right," said Jacko in a whisper.

"Sure," added his brother Jumpo. "They won't melt so fast."

"All right, then, three hard bricks of ice cream," ordered Uncle Wiggily, and soon he and the monkey boys started back with them to the hollow stump bungalow to have the party.

But all of a sudden, when they were almost home, out of the darkest part of the woods jumped a bad old Namby Pamby, who grabbed Uncle Wiggily.

"Now I have you!" snorted the Namby Pamby, who is a bad animal with strong claws but a very soft head. "Now I have you!"

"Yes so it seems!" sadly said the bunny. "Oh, dear! What shall I do?"

"Hit him on the head with a brick, Uncle Wiggily!" cried Jacko in a hoarse whisper.

"Hit him on his soft head with two bricks!" cried Jumpo. "Here, we'll help you, Uncle Wiggily! Hit him with the bricks!"

Now, of course, I'm not saying it is nice to hit any one on the head with a brick, but in case of a Namby Pamby you have to do something different.

"Uncle Wiggily! Let me take one of the bricks, and I'll hit him!" shouted Jacko.

"Oh, no! Please don't hit me! Oh, my head is so soft I never could stand being hit on it with a brick!" begged the Namby Pamby. "I'll be good! I'll let you go! Only, don't brick-hit me!"

So he let Uncle Wiggily go, and away the Namby Pamby ran, and Jacko and Jumpo hurried on home with the treat for the party, and the monkey boy said:

"We fooled the Namby Pamby. He thought we meant to hit him with hard, red bricks, but we only had ice cream ones. Ha! Ha!"

"Well, I'm glad we didn't have to hit him," said the bunny, as he ate his cream. And if the sunshine on the wall doesn't tickle the picture of the baby and make him laugh in his sleep, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the cranberries.

"Well, mother," said a workingman to his wife, as he returned from the park, where he had seen hobnobbing all the forenoon with his fellow strikers, "let's have dinner."

"No dinner to-day, old man," she replied.

"No dinner? What's up?"

"I've struck for eight hours' work and two meals a day. So has Mrs. Johnson, so has Mrs. Spring. In fact, we've had a meeting and we have come to the conclusion that 16 hours a day is too hard on women when big strong men can only stand eight hours."

Major T. Lee and Mrs. Lee, of Bonnington Falls, are among the mainland visitors in the city for a few days.

Miss Edith McConnell has returned to Vancouver after spending a few days in the city, as the guest of Mrs. J. P. McConnell.

Major and Mrs. G. E. Winters, of Quebec, have arrived in the city, and are among the guests at the Empress Hotel.

Miss Maude Hayward, of Edmonton, has arrived in the city from Edmonton and will spend the next few months in the city. She is a guest at the Victoria Club.

The Canada Gazette of recent issue contains notice of the appointment of Dr. J. G. Rutherford, the well-known veterinary surgeon and former member of the House of Commons, as a member of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners.

In anticipation of the return of the large number of veterans who are scheduled to come home at no very distant date, and of whom a large portion will doubtless enter the local military convalescent hospitals for treatment, the "J" Unit Chapter, I. O. D. E. is making a special effort to raise funds to provide comforts for them, and for the men already in the local institutions. The first step in this money-raising campaign will be the holding of a big dance at the Empress Hotel on December 3, in the preparations of which the members are busily engaged. The affair is to be an especially attractive one, and promises to eclipse the many previous successful functions which lie to the credit of this energetic chapter.

VICTORIA CLERGYMAN SUFFERS BEREAVEMENT

Mrs. J. C. Gillespie, Daughter of Rev. C. R. Littler, Passes Away

The Rev. C. R. and Mrs. Littler are receiving many expressions of sympathy in the loss of their daughter, Ethel Frances Mary, wife of Lieut. J. C. Gillespie, who passed away at Kingston, Ireland, on November 14. In the absence of any previous intimation of her illness the news of her death came as a severe shock to her parents, the captain and Mrs. J. C. Gillespie, who arrived in the city on Wednesday containing but the brief announcement of her passing.

The late Mrs. Gillespie was born in Winnipeg, and came to Victoria with her parents some years ago. She left Victoria in June, 1916, for England, where her marriage to Lieut. J. C. Gillespie took place on July 12, 1916. Lieut. Gillespie is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Gillespie, of St. John's, Newfoundland. He is well-known in Victoria, having practised here as a chartered accountant prior to leaving for England in September, 1915, where he continued his duties as a V. A. D. hospital in England. Some months ago she left for Ireland, taking up her residence at Kingston, where her death took place.

RED CROSS ARRANGES

"ARMISTICE DANCE"

Big Social Function at Empress Hotel on November 28

Among the many social functions which were necessarily postponed owing to the imposition of the ban was the masquerade dance originally arranged to take place at the Empress Hotel on Halloween. The lifting of the ban and the renewal of social activities, coupled with the general feeling of elation at the advent of a victorious peace, has led the organizers—the Red Cross—to exercise additional effort to make the event one commensurate with the importance of the occasion.

Assuming the rank of an "Armistice Dance," the affair promises to be one of the most popular of the season, and the management of the hotel is co-operating to the fullest extent with the organizers. To accommodate the big throng of dancers expected, the whole of the ground floor of the hotel will be thrown open as was done on the occasion of the ball during the visit of the Governor-General.

Dancing will take place in the ballroom, palmcourt and rotunda, while the smaller reception rooms will be available for sitting-out. Professor Lon Turner's orchestra, especially augmented for the occasion, will be stationed in the palm-court, and an attractive and appropriate programme of music is in course of preparation.

Although the affair was primarily designed as a masquerade ball, masking is optional.

SERG. HENRY GEORGE SIVERTZ. Fell in Battle, September 25, 1918.

He would not have us weep. Although he lies asleep. Amid the fading leaves and flowers of France.

"Each single life is small." Whence before he made his last advance. And in those tragic fields. Where not a soldier yields. Convict's fire outlasts the fire of guns; Where history of the age. Shall write a crimson page. Devotion counts him 'mong her splendid ones.

And you, his comrades brave, Who dug your hero's grave And laid to rest his youthful form and faith.

You know his dauntless heart And how he played his part: A great man in his youth is buried there.

MAUBEUGE

A TRIBUTE TO THE BRITISH
From The New York Times, Just Before the Armistice.

Field-Marshal Haig reported on Saturday that "the fortress of Maubeuge has been captured by the Guards and Sixty-Second Divisions." So, after four years and three months of war, the British Army is advancing in triumph over the ground where the "Contemptibles" first saw the flash of the enemy's guns and retreated, fighting desperately, before superior forces. If Sir John French had blundered at Maubeuge in the last week of August, 1914, his army would have been destroyed or captured, and through the gap made by its elimination the Germans would have poured in an ever-swelling flood of men and guns, rolling up the flanks of the French armies and confronting Joffre with a problem, the saving of his main body and the defence of Paris, for which he might not have been able to find a solution. Small as was the British Expeditionary Force, consisting of no more than 93,000 men, its units checked the German advance from day to day by tenacious holding on to positions—prepared over night until scarcely an officer or private was left to tell the story. Never did the British Army, which has always known how to die, fight such stubborn rearguard actions. These covering operations made it possible for Sir John French to save a part of his army, and on September 3 it crossed the Marne by the bridges between Lagry and Meaux. These bridges were blown up by the rear guard.

"Yes, I am going to join the ranks of the higher ups."

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

The enormous increase of cost of everything that is a contributing factor in the production of a daily newspaper, together with the latest announcement of the paper manufacturers that the price of newsprint has been advanced no less than $21.00 per ton, or nearly 35 per cent, makes it absolutely imperative that the subscription rate of The Times be raised from 50c. to 75c. per month, and this will take effect on and after December 1.

The Times, in common with other newspapers, throughout the Dominion and the United States, has been placed under a tremendous handicap during the four years of war. Metal, type, ink and the thousand-and-one things that must be used every day, have been raised in price from time to time until at present they can be purchased only at almost prohibitive prices, the increase over pre-war costs being in some cases one hundred per cent. The increase in the cost of paper alone means an addition to The Times' operating expenses of over thirteen thousand dollars a year.

The Times is taking this step regretfully and unwillingly and only after the problem of taking care of increased production costs has become almost unbearable. It is hoped that our subscribers will realize the absolute necessity of the change, which, on our part, will do everything possible to maintain the efficiency and reliability of our local, Canadian, and world news service, so as to make The Times more than ever the home paper of Victoria.

against a force at least twice as strong as his own, the Germans had thrown back the Fifth French Army on his right and were driving across the Sambre between Namur and Charleroi. At the same time the enemy was making a wide enveloping movement around his left at Tournai. The British supports were gone, had been gone for several hours, and when the message reached Sir John French the Fifth French Army was retreating before Von Below's Second German Army.

The British commander knew the terrain in his rear intimately, for he was an authority on the French campaigns of the past. His decision was quickly made: he would fall back upon the line Maubeuge-Jenlain, and that very night preparations were made for retirement while he continued to defend the Mons position as if he knew nothing of what had befallen Lanrezac, Langie and Ruffey. Back went the heavy transport to clear the roads, and the ambulances carrying the wounded followed. In the morning Haig's First Corps counter-attacked to cover the retirement of Smith-Dorrien's Second Corps. The faint deceived the enemy, who reasoned from the steady fire of Haig's 120 guns that the British had been reinforced. When Smith-Dorrien had fallen back five miles from the Conde Canal he took up a strong defensive position, Franchimont-Guaroude, to give the British right an opportunity to retire to Maubeuge, a fortress of the first class on the Sambre.

To the left of the British force the enemy had crossed the frontier, but the British right resting on Maubeuge would have been secure if the French had made a junction with it. This, however, was out of the question. The Fifth Army was not in touch with it and had no alternative but to retire to new positions. Von Kluck's design was to outflank the British left and tempt Sir John French to give battle under the protection of the Maubeuge forts. That would have been fatal to the expeditionary force without support. It would have been Sedan over again. The British Army was of about the same strength as the French Army that surrendered at Sedan in the late summer of 1870.

The British commander, left to his own resources by the irresistible "drive" of the Germans against the French on his right, rejected the plan of giving battle on the Maubeuge-Jenlain line and ordered a retreat past the great forest of Mormal, the First Corps marching to the east of it, the Second Corps to the west of it, for in its way the forest of Mormal was as dangerous to a small army as the fortress of Maubeuge. It is not necessary to follow the fortunes of the hard-pressed British Army falling back to its position after another through Le Cateau, Landreches, Valenciennes, Cambrai, and St. Quentin. The worst was over when the Second Corps reached the Somme.

The British are at last back in Maubeuge, retracing the line of their retreat. They have passed through the same towns that saw them staggering and bleeding and beaten from the fierce German onslaughts in 1914. They have thrown back the enemy in and around the forest of Mormal. They are again in the vicinity of Mons, where they fought the first battle of the war. They are flushed with many victories. They will never taste defeat again, and the Germans will never know anything else. But it is not to be doubted that if Sir John French had blundered at Maubeuge in those crowded hours in August, 1914, the British would never have returned as victors in the closing days of the great war.

FALLEN GERMANY

From The New York Times.

The German people, headed by their Kaiser and his associates in autocracy, set forth gayly and confidently four years ago to begin the conquest of the world. Their confidence never shook them; they never doubted of success, strange to say, until about the middle of the great retreat before Poch. At first not even the retreat disturbed them, for they believed it was for strategic reasons; it is probable that the possibility of defeat did not strike them for a month or more, and did not become actual in their minds until the beginning of the withdrawal from Belgium.

How stunning, therefore, must be the overwhelming disaster that has befallen them. Generally the defeated part sees no chance for a long time and has a chance to get used to the idea; but this defeat came almost from a clear sky. They had believed that the great rush of March 21 was to give the finishing touches to the war. It did, but in so different a way from what they expected! This is the first war in which United Germany has engaged since its creation, and the German Empire then created is shattered literally at a blow—the blow which Foch struck on July 18. By their pride and confidence w.

may measure their humiliation. "But yesterday the word of Caesar might have stood against the world" and now Caesar is begging bread, and what is worse, begging it from those who have conquered him. Foreign armies are about to move upon the Rhine, there to wait until he has carried out the peace terms they will impose upon him. "Fasti stultum et trepidum, die Wach, die Wach am Rhein!" but the new watch on the Rhine will be a watch maintained by the "degenerate" French, the "contemptible" British, and the "dollar-chasing" Yankees.

Only last week they were still destroying French cities, even up to the very day of the armistice; now they discover that they were simply adding to Germany's bill with every house they smashed. German prisoners will rebuild the houses, stone on stone, and Germany will pay for the work. Piling up work for Germans to do, piling up marks for Germans to pay, that was what they were doing when they fired those last shells into Maubeuge and what they had been doing all through their retreat, and a year before they had to retreat.

Now their once beloved Hohenzollern, on whom they turned in wrath the moment he proved unsuccessful, is in ignominious hiding in Holland, with his status to be determined by the Allies. They are proscribed, waiting for the tramp of Allied soldiers in the Rhine-cities. They have nothing to fear, despite the fact that had they been conquerors they would have ravaged and razed French towns, as they proved in 1871. They fear not the Allies, but their own workmen and soldiers, who have been taught by the Hohenzollerns for two hundred years that there is no law but strength and desire. And, getting something to eat; and they beseege the Allies for food with mingled prayers and threats, despite the fact that the highest Allied authorities have publicly promised that they shall be fed.

Most remarkable of all, they beg the Allies to protect the German troops as they evacuate Alsace-Lorraine, and protect them from what? From the civil population, which they have been assuring the world was loyally German; from the civil population, whose sons were torn from them to serve in the German Army. Zehn is tremendously avenged. No more will young officers strike down harmless cobblers for being wanting in respect; no more, in any town of Lorraine or Alsace.

Some humiliation, of course, will be spared the German by reason of his inability to feel the contempt of the world. But he can feel the failure of his own ambitions and desires; he can feel that more keenly, perhaps, than could any other man in his place. For two hundred years he has put all his eggs in one basket, and now the basket has fallen on a rock.

COAL PRODUCTION GAINS IN OCTOBER

Collieries of British Columbia Respond to Demand With Winter's Approach

Figures supplied by the Provincial Department of Mines to the Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, this morning give the total production of coal for the Province of British Columbia for the month of October as 217,482 tons, an increase of 58,922 tons over the preceding month. Be it noted, also, that in the month of September the mines of the Crow's Nest Pass District were idle.

Tonnages produced by the various districts for the month of October are as follows: Vancouver Island District, 146,933 tons; Nicola-Princeton District, 15,299 tons; Crow's Nest Pass District, 55,250 tons—totaling 217,482 tons for the whole Province.

Detailed Tonnages.—Tonnages produced by the Collieries of the Crow's Nest Pass District are as follows: Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, Coal-Creek Colliery, 25,496 tons; the same company's Michel Colliery, 15,149 tons; Corbin Coal and Coke Company, Corbin, 14,614 tons—totaling for the district, 55,250 tons. The tonnages mined by the collieries in the Nicola-Princeton District for the month of October were 15,299 tons, an increase of 462 tons over the amount mined for September. The tonnages produced by the various collieries are given as follows: Middleboro Collieries, 3,262 tons; Fleming Colliery, 2,250 tons; Gasmont Collieries, 4,900 tons; Princeton Collieries, 3,327 tons, totalling for the district, 15,299 tons.

Vancouver Island.—Heading the list for Vancouver Island is the Canadian Collieries with a total of 74,368 tons for the Comox and Wellington Collieries, while the Canadian Western Fuel Company comes second with an output of 59,219 tons for the Nanaimo Colliery. The tonnages produced by the various collieries are as follows: Canadian Western Fuel Company, Nanaimo Colliery, 59,219 tons; Canadian Collieries (D.), Limited, Comox, 47,604 tons; from the same company's Wellington Colliery, 26,767 tons; Pacific Coast Coal Mines, Limited, Morden, 12,149 tons; Columbia Coal Mining Company, Jinglepot, 3,025 tons; Nanaimo Collieries, Limited, Grant, 1,900 tons; Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting & Power Company, Granby, 1,256 tons, making a total of 146,933 tons for the island mines. In spite of the loss of tonnage due to the ravages of the influenza epidemic, the production for island mines stands the third highest for any month of the year, being only 4,922 tons less than the highest production in March, and 1,374 tons less than the second highest production in April.

Increase Over 1917.—The total production of the collieries of the Province for the first ten months of the year is 2,204,155 tons, and for the first ten months of 1917 the production was 1,962,481 tons, so that the output so far this year shows an increase of 241,674 tons over the same period in 1917.

Tired, Overworked Mothers What You Need is Vinol

War conditions have made the demand upon a mother's time and energy unlimited. In their zeal to do all in their power for their loved ones, they continually overwork and are soon in a nervous, run-down condition. Vinol, the non-secret cod liver and iron tonic, will build you up and make you strong.

HERE IS PROOF

Whitman, Mass. "I suffered from a nervous, run-down condition and loss of strength so it was hard for me to get around and do my work. After other medicines had failed to help me Vinol restored my health and strength and I heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from a nervous, run-down condition."—Mrs. R. M. Little.

Cleveland, Ohio.

"I keep house for my husband and myself and got into a weak, run-down condition, no strength, languid and no ambition. After doctoring for awhile and getting no better I tried Vinol and to my surprise it built me up and strengthened my whole system. It is certainly a good tonic."—Mrs. Wm. D. Dawson.

MUCH LARGER PER CAPITA INVESTMENT

Victoria's Average is High in Victory Loan Drive

With the issue of the results of the Victory Loan in British Columbia, comparisons as to the share of Greater Victoria in the general response become possible. It is estimated that as an average every man, woman and child in the Province invested $91.06 in the recent Loan. This city beats that record by over $18 per capita, not including the investment of the Provincial Government.

It is estimated that the population of Greater Victoria is 55,000. The city and the environs, exclusive of the Provincial Government subscription, invested approximately $6,000,000. This is an average of $109.09 per capita or $18.03 per head better than the Province as a whole. The island as a whole, however, fell somewhat below the average for the Province. The population of the island is estimated at 100,000, so that the average per capita was $75 on that basis, or $14.06 below that of the Province as a whole.

Though British Columbia swept far past her quota, the average subscription per capita was behind that of the Dominion as a whole. Canada, with a population of about 7,000,000 invested $676,000,000 or about $96 per capita to British Columbia's $91.06.

Compared to last year the response of Victoria is still more encouraging, and shows an advance of about 67 per cent.

In 1917 Greater Victoria subscribed $3,800,000, or an average of $69 per capita. This year the per capita average was $109. These figures are based on published statistics, which are declared at the Victoria Victory Loan office to be subject to change.

Metal Trades Meet.—The Metal Trades Council will meet at 5 o'clock this evening at the Labor Hall, North Park Street. A number of important questions will come up for discussion.

Before or After Influenza

BY LEE HERBERT SMITH, M. D.

These minute germs enter the body thru nose, throat and lungs, and the first symptoms develop in from two to four days. It is important to practise personal cleanliness—a clean skin, mouth and nose, clean bowels. Avoid the person who coughs and sneezes. Sleep well, eat well, play well. Drink plenty of water, hot or cold lemonade. Then keep the bowels active. Every other day take castor oil, or a purgative made of May-apple, leaves of aloe, jalap, and rolled into a tiny, sugar-coated pill, sold by druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

In the attack of Influenza nature's effort to remove the poisons from the body often results in inflammation of the kidneys, and so it is well to help nature's effort by inducing perspiration, with hot lemonade and hot mustard foot-baths, and hot water bottles. Obtain of your druggist a kidney and backache remedy, known as "Anurie" (anti-uric) tablets. These help flush the bladder, kidneys, and the intestines, and act as an antiseptic, and if taken either before, or during the attack lessen the pain and the danger to the kidneys. When the attack is over and it leaves you in a weakened, pale, anemic condition, it would be well to obtain an iron tonic at the drug store. A good one is "Irontic" Tablets, or if you prefer an herbal tonic, a good one is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made from wild roots and barks of forest trees, and without alcohol.

For those past middle life, for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation, as backache, scalding "water," or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, "rusty" joints, stiffness, get Anurie at the drug store, or send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., 10 cents for trial package of Anurie, which you will find many times more potent than lithia and eliminates uric acid as hot tea melts sugar. A short trial will convince you.

HUMOROUS CASE IS HEARD IN COURT

What Happened on Door-Step When Bill Collector Called

One of the most humorous cases heard in a long time was tried in the County Court yesterday afternoon when the appeal in Rex vs. McOrmond came on before Judge Lampman.

In the lower Court Magistrate Jay fined McOrmond $10 for striking a man named Dawe a severe blow in the face on a certain occasion when he called on Dawe for the purpose of collecting a bill. McOrmond appealed from this decision, and on the conclusion of the hearing yesterday judgment was reserved.

McOrmond told the Court that he had called at Dawe's house to collect the bill, and the latter had called him a liar twice, followed by a foul name. At that McOrmond felt justified in venting his wrath to the extent of giving Dawe a good stiff poke in the nose which Dawe said put him out, though he remembered being struck twice afterwards.

When telling how it happened Dawe said that he was standing with his hands in his pockets when he was struck. Judge Lampman asked him if he always kept his hands in his pocket when he called a man a liar, and when Dawe said "No," the judge advised him to keep his hands out of his pockets on such occasions.

Cross-examined by Mr. Lowe, Dawe repeated that he had his hands in his pockets all the time and added that whenever he spoke to anybody on the street or anywhere else it was his custom to do so.

Mr. Lowe—"Are you sure of that?"

Answer—"Yes."

Mr. Lowe—"If I met you on the street and we talked together you would immediately put your hands in your pockets?"

Answer—"Yes."

Mr. Lowe—"And even in this court you would do so?"

Answer—"Yes."

Mr. Lowe—"Well, you have just been waving them at me now for the last twenty minutes," at which Dawe immediately put both hands into his pockets, remarking, "Well, I am speaking to a gentleman now."

"Apparently there's the explanation of it, that he does not often speak to a gentleman," said the Judge.

WEDDING: PEARS-WALTON.

The bride looked charming in a smart travelling suit of dark brown serge. Her bridesmaid was Miss Linda R. Merton, who was attired in a fawn gabardine. The bridegroom was supported by the bride's brother, Robert William Walton. Mr. and Mrs. Pears after a short trip will make their home in Victoria.

TWELVE ELEVENS WILL PLAY SOCCER SATURDAY

Island and City Champions Meet; Intermediate League Opens

Saturday's soccer programme is the busiest in years in Victoria. Four games are down for decision in the senior competition, and the intermediate league starts with two games on the cards. Chief interest on Saturday centres in the meeting of the two rivals, the Victoria West Brotherhood, last year's city champions who forged ahead again last Saturday to the top of the league, and the Fragments from France, the island champions, who were leading the competition until last Saturday. The game is to be played at Beacon Hill Park.

Games Start Earlier.
Secretary A. W. Hill announces that it has been decided to call the games a quarter of an hour earlier, owing to the decreasing daylight and all games Saturday are scheduled to commence at 2.45.

West v. Fragments.
The Fragments announce a strong line-up. Tipper and Singlehurst are in the selection again, but Pitts has not sufficiently recovered to make an appearance. The teams are as follows:

West: Shandley; Copas and Whyte; Ferris, McKenzie and Baker; Sheratt, Mulcahy, Johnnie Peden, Archie McKinnon and Thomas. Reserves, Moulton and McKay.
Fragments: Bruce; Gomm and Townsend; Symonds, Freeman and Singlehurst; McInroy, Bloom, Howers, Southern and Tipper. Reserves, Forsythe and Moncur. Referee, Haston.

Yarrows v. James Island.
Although this is the island team's home game it will take place at Central Park. Yarrows announce a strong eleven since they have been in the competition, and with all the men who were out with sickness back in the game. The shipyard men's line-up is as follows: Barnes, Ord and Bell; McIlroy, Thackray and Brown; Douglas, Roberts, Kerley, Baker and Erskine. Reserves, Fulton, Unwin and Walton. Referee, Haston.

Lancaster v. I. M. B.
The Lancaster's game with the Imperial Munitions Board will take place at Oak Bay, and will be refereed by Wilkay.

Garrison v. Navy.
This game will be played on the Canteen grounds, and the Garrison eleven who have been changing the centre forward position since Frank Sweeney had his bout with Spanish influenza, are playing Ellmore in the centre forward position. Ellmore who has played for the Thistles and Sir John Jackson's has been out of the game some time as the result of an operation, but it is anticipated that he will prove a big acquisition to the side. The teams are as follows:

Garrison: Jelliman; Beale and Pigott; Mesher, Bescott and Turner; Lloyd Gibson; L. G. Ellmore, Rough and Jones. Reserves, Gale and Buxton.
Navy: Jasper; Borland and Rutter; Bell, Lacey and Clark; Hunter, Rose, Lifton, Masters and Cawthorne.

INTERMEDIATE GAMES.

Garrison v. Victoria Hospital.
Two teams of soldiers will meet at Work Point in the Intermediate League when the Garrison and the Victoria Military Hospital eleven, comprising players from Esquimalt and Victoria, try conclusions. The Hospital selection is as follows: Esquimalt Hospital—McMind; Gutteridge and Travis; Robertson, Clarkson and Reid; Blandy; Hawkes, Devlin, Thomas and West. Reserves—Sandford, Grogan and Swann.

Foundation C. v. Yarrows.
Two teams of shipyard workers are also due to meet, with Beacon Hill as the venue.

The senior team of the Foundation Company have a bye in the competition, so their players are expecting a big crowd of supporters to give them a send-off in the new league. The Foundation team is as follows: Humber, Teague and Chester; Hadger, Melville and Crawley; Ford, Crawford, Carroll, Townsend and Lumley. Reserves—Stuart, Harrison and McDermot.

BASKETBALL RESUMES TO-MORROW WITH TWO MATCHES

The fixtures, which had to be called off in the City Basketball League, will be resumed to-morrow at the Y. M. C. A. court. Secretary Gopp announces that the Foundation Company and the I. M. B. will be the first to take the floor, and he is also trying to arrange for the Garrison and the Navy to meet afterwards in their fight for points. The league will open with added enthusiasm and at least one extra entry, the Foundation Company having discovered that they have enough material for another team to play in the competition. It was expected that a meeting of the league officials would be held this week, but they were unable to get together.

TO CONSOLIDATE BIG TROTTERING ASSOCIATIONS

New York, Nov. 22.—Conferences looking toward consolidation of the National and American Trotting Associations were begun here to-day by representatives of the two associations, meeting with a committee of the American Association of Trotting Horse Breeders.

The conferences are the result of a resolution passed by the Breeders' Association in Lexington, Ky., October 4, urging the merger. Attending to-day's conferences were former United States Senator J. W. Bailey, of Texas, President of the Breeders' Association; A. H. Coston, New York; James D. Calhoun, Pittsburgh; A. B. Cox, Philadelphia, and Charles W. Leonard, Boston.

A SAD COINCIDENCE.

Lieut. W. K. Tyldesley, the Lancashire cricketer, who was killed in France in May, was one of three brothers who played in the Lancashire eleven. Enlisting at the beginning of the war as a private, he received his commission in October, 1915, and after serving at home for some time as a bombing instructor, he only returned to France a fortnight before he was killed. Born in 1887, he made his first appearance in the Lancashire team in 1908 against Kent, his highest score being 152 against Derbyshire. It is a sad coincidence says the London Sportsman, that on the occasion of the last county match at Old Trafford in 1914, Major H. G. Garnett and W. K. Tyldesley, who have both fallen in the war, should have opened the Lancashire innings.

OAK BAY JUNIOR ATHLETES HAVE BUSY SEASON AHEAD

Football, Hockey and Basketball on Programme of Sports for Boys and Girls Arranged by Newly Formed Schools Athletic Association

Now that the influenza ban is lifted, and with the resumption of school shortly, the newly formed Oak Bay Schools Athletic Association is determined that junior athletics in the municipality for the remainder of the season shall be in a flourishing state. Since their most successful event for the Red Cross on Dominion Day, a meeting of the executive has been held under the chairmanship of the President, P. F. Curtis, when the following schools were represented: Oak Bay High School (Messrs. Hope and Downs); St. Michael's School (Mr. Milton); Monterey School (Capt. Dexter); Willows School (Mr. Hoadley).

A. R. Hannel consented to undertake the duties of hon. secretary-treasurer, and from him any information may be obtained.

Football Fixtures.

Thanks are extended to the B. C. Electric Railway, who has put its athletic park at the disposal of the Association on five days a week. It was decided to mark the area off in two football grounds for the season and allocations were made, giving each school at least one field per week in addition to a series of friendly matches, to be played off on alternate Thursdays.

The colors of the Association are red and white, the girls of the High and Public Schools having volunteered to supply flags for the touch lines. Mr. Curtis's offer of lumber for goal posts and flags was accepted with thanks.

In football there are some very promising youngsters in Oak Bay, and when the season is in full swing it is hoped that a representative team will be allowed to demonstrate their ability to Victoria and Esquimalt or even to a Mainland team.

Hockey for Girls.

Oak Bay High School (girls and boys) and St. Michael's School are also keen on hockey, and the grounds will often be used for this, one of the most popular winter games in the Old Country.

Basketball also will receive its fair share of support, arrangements having been made for the use of the High School gym by the schools which are members of the Association.

It is hoped that now the Association is firmly established, it will often prove a means of raising money for the Red Cross or other patriotic societies.

PORTLAND FIGHTER SURPRISES FANS

Great Little Lightweight Sends Seattle Boy to Floor in Sixth

Seattle, Nov. 22.—Chet Neff lost a decision to Portland's great little lightweight, Alex Trambitas, last night in the main event of the Tacoma Eagles' boxing card.

The Rose City lad beat Neff squarely. He surprised the fans with his speed and cleverness, and besides uncovered a kick in his right hand which sent the Seattle boy to the floor in the sixth round. The bout was fast all the way, but Trambitas earned the verdict without any question.

Harold Jones, the boy who Chet Neff developed proved the sensation of the night. The little Tacoma lightweight gave Frankie Tucker, of Seattle, an awful battle, the contest ending in a draw. Jones was just as clever as the sailor lightweight, and earned an even decision by his work.

Billy Williams, substituting for Lackey Morrow, defeated Jimmy Ford, the boy who lost to Leo Houck at the benefit here, by a decision. Williams was too clever for Ford. Red Gage and Jack Williams went to a draw in the other event on the programme.

INTER-COLLEGIATE HOCKEY.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 22.—Queen's Athletic Council last night decided to notify McGill that Queen's was ready to co-operate this winter in inter-collegiate hockey in the senior series. Should the series not materialize an intermediate team will be entered in the O. H. A. besides a junior one.

INTERMEDIATE RUGBY GAME FOR SATURDAY AT ATHLETIC PARK

The Royal Naval College and the V. I. A. A. intermediate players clash in the rugby competition on Saturday at the Royal Athletic Park, with Referee W. H. Spaulding due to blow the whistle at 2.45. On the last meeting the navy men obtained the verdict by a margin of three points, but the V. I. A. A. although they are without the services of Grubbe have an improved side, and are optimistic over the result of the encounter. The Island Club will rely on the following team:

Zeke Lineham, full back; Matson, Webster, Robinson, Lineham and Stapleton, three quarters; Streeter, Bainbridge, halves; Bale, Blythe, Abiet, Cuthbert, Riley, Gropp, Andros, Kennedy, Muir, forwards.

A work out will be held to-night at the V. I. A. A. Gymnasium in the "Duck Hall" on the top floor of the Canada Hotel at 8.30 p. m. sharp, to which all senior and intermediate players are requested to attend.

MATTY BALDWIN'S FAMILY TO BENEFIT

Boston, Nov. 22.—More than 7,000 boxing enthusiasts attended a benefit entertainment here last night for the family of Matty Baldwin, former New England lightweight champion. The receipts exceeded $10,000. Willie Jackson and Frank Britt, Jack Britton and "Harlem" Tommy Murphy took part in exhibition bouts.

"ATTABOY!" ROOTER IN WRONG ELEMENT

Dough Boy Missed the Features of American National Game

Among the columns in the sporting pages filled with the Englishman's version of baseball and the Canadian and Sammie's impression of cricket, few have been more amusing than the following article by Thomas Burke in The London Daily Mail:

"Say, old pal, I have been getting a line on this cricket game of yours, and I'd like to spiel to you."

"Well, well, well, well. Say, the evening service at our National Baptist chapel way back in Wallopville is surely one big riot to it. You Englishers have got mighty fresh about our ball game, but it is a game, ain't it? But your cricket. . . . Seems like the Chinese invented the game; 'cos I never see anything so odd-like, except a Chink starchery on Pell Street in full blast."

"First the fielding team comes out. They walk to their places in the field like it was a court-martial, and then two Chinese in clean pants marches out, carrying what looks like little cars. They goes through some slow ritual, and then the pitcher at one end trundles the ball to the bat at the other end. Maybe the bat hits it. Maybe he don't. If he do, one of the fielders takes a languid trot towards it, picks it up gently, and hands it to the pitcher. If he hits it very hard, and it don't happen to go anywhere near a fielder, he and the chap at the other end change places. 'A rian,' they call it. Run! Ever see a religious procession round a cathedral? Then when he's put out. Does he trot back to the Chinese pavilion? No, sir. If he did, he'd get put off the field for being frivolous. He crawls back, and the next man crawls out, and the game's delayed a minute or so, and everybody has a much-needed rest."

"And, oh, boy, the peacefulness of it all. Nobody lifts his voice. Nobody enjoys the game. You might think they was all prisoners of war, doing chores for Fritz. The crowd's just the same. No talk. No rooting. No noise. Once when a man hit a fly, and the chap at short stop muffed it, I jumps up and shouts: 'Attaboy! Zaa, Sess, Boom. Zaa.' But the chap I was with pulls me down, and says 'Sh.' 'What's hitting you?' I says. 'You can't do that here,' he says. 'It disturbs the players.'"

"Disturbs the players, old pal! 'Say,' I says, 'what do your folk come to a game for, anyways?' 'We come to see serious cricket,' he says. 'My God,' I says, 'serious is the word. When's the sermon?'"

"He nudged me again, like I was misbehaving myself, so I pipes down and watches their 'fast' bowler. Oh, Lordy, Lordy. When I see him putting over his 'fast' ones, and then thinks of Grover Alexander. . . . Oh, boy! 'Next I remember was my escort shaking me, and I hikes up and rubs my eyes. 'What is the service over?' I says. 'Yes,' he says, 'and we won by twenty-four.' And he looked so solemn about it, I felt kinder sorry. 'Never mind,' I says, 'perhaps next time you'll get licked, and then I'll help you kill the umpire.' Oh, we never have disgraceful scenes like that," he says. 'Not in real cricket,' he says. 'Ain't there no other kind of cricket?' I says: 'where a chap can enjoy himself and get worked up, and go Sss, Boom. Eah.'"

"Well, he looks at me then so-grieved and severe, like that I turned and lined out. 'Where you going?' he says. 'I says: 'By way of a change I'm going to the Bells to play a hair-tearing hot-a-pot, hell-fire game of ludo.'"

ONTARIO HOCKEY.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 22.—Hamilton Tigers look for the O. H. A. to have but one senior group with three Toronto teams, Kitchener and Hamilton represented.

CANADIAN CHAMPIONS VICTORS AT SEATTLE

Without intending to discriminate against any of the other bouts, says The Seattle Times, in commenting on the bouts at the fight programme for War Work Fund, it may be said that the clash between Harry Anderson, former lightweight champion of Canada, now a member of the naval training station, and Joe Miller, of Camp Lewis, who is credited with a decision over Johnny McCarthy, was about the most interesting of the evening. It was very fast all the way through, and Referee Mickey King gave Anderson a hair-line decision. Many of the fans would have been satisfied with a draw. A knockdown in the fourth round was the point on which Anderson got the edge. Miller was even better than the fans expected, and they have heard much of him. Anderson was in great shape and put up the best exhibition of his career in Seattle.

FEATHERWEIGHT TITLE HOLDER WANTS MATCHES

Toronto, Nov. 22.—Frankie Fleming, champion of the world's featherweight championship since the retirement of Champion Kilbane, has received his honorable discharge from the Royal Air Force. Fleming will take on Pete Scott, the Indian lightweight, or Clonnie Tait at 135 pounds ringside, or Frankie Bull at catchweights.

BASEBALL STARS APPLY FOR EARLY RELEASE

Boston, Mass., Nov. 22.—Walter Pipp, of the New York American League Baseball Club, and Tris Speaker, of the Cleveland club, to-day took advantage of a recent Government announcement and applied for immediate discharge from the naval aviation school at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The men said they expected to play baseball next season.

GOLF CHAMPION INJURED.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Second-Lieut. Walter C. Crowder, a champion golfer of Chicago, injured by an airplane fall in the Hawaiian Islands, survived a serious fall at Kelly Field, Texas, during his training. The former Cook County champion, who figured prominently in the last Western amateur golf championship, was out of commission with an injured head for several weeks after his first fall.

MAYOR OF NELSON DIES OF INFLUENZA

Nelson, Nov. 22.—Mayor M. R. McQuarrie, of Nelson, died at midnight last night, a victim of Spanish influenza. He had been ill a week, his condition becoming critical Wednesday, when pneumonia was rushed by speeder and automobile from Trail and the Silver King Mine in an effort to save his life. He was fifty-three years old, and had lived in Nelson for fifteen years, being previously a resident of Roseland. He was elected Mayor last January. He is survived by a widow and one daughter. A son, Capt. Donald McQuarrie, M. C., was killed September 29 in the battle in which the 54th Kootenay Battalion was badly cut up. Capt. McQuarrie had twice before been wounded.

INFLUENZA AT SASKATOON.

WILL OPEN STORE FOR SERVICE MEN'S WORK

Local Girls to Undertake Sale of Soldiers' and Sailors' Handiwork

From time to time Victorians have been given an opportunity, by means of exhibitions and displays on a small scale, of seeing something of the excellent handicraft fashioned by soldiers in the local institutions, so that the news that an organized effort is to be made to place their work on the market will be read with interest.

On Monday week, the store in the Fernberton Building on Broad Street, formerly occupied by "Phyllis" will open its doors as an "exchange" where the handicraft of soldiers and sailors will be offered for sale. The establishment will be in charge of Miss Neame and Miss Thomson, with the assistance of other local girls. While the undertaking will be conducted on strictly business lines, the organizers are actuated purely by a desire to help the men to reach the buying public. To this end the work will be taken from any soldier or sailor, and will be sold on a ten per cent. commission basis, the profits being used to meet the overhead expenses of the store.

Any soldier or sailor having handicraft for disposal is requested to take it to the store in the morning of Thursday, Friday or Saturday next week. Judging by the work which has been exhibited locally from time to time, the organizers feel confident that many articles suitable for Christmas presents will be available.

CARGO RATES FROM ORIENT SHOW DROP

Freight rates from China, Japan and the Philippines to this coast at present are at a low level, says The Seattle Times, the base rate having fallen from $40 to $10 a ton, as a result of the operation of Government ships and the restrictions placed on import movements. Charter rates have not fallen in proportion, according to information obtained in shipping circles, and many charters will not be renewed until the situation clears. The Government ships carry freight at a much lower price than the former prevailing freight rates from the Orient to the Coast.

While the rates in the movement from the Orient to the Coast are demoralized to the extent indicated, rates from the Coast to the Orient are extremely firm and high. Enough space is not available to handle the cargo offering.

LANCASTER'S CREW TO BE TRANSFERRED TO H. M. S. EURYALUS

Several Hundred Men Will Leave Esquimalt Next Week for Oriental Station

ANOTHER COMPLEMENT NOW EN ROUTE HERE

After eighteen months of patrol work on the Pacific, the officers and crew of H. M. S. Lancaster, now lying in Esquimalt Harbor, are shortly to be transferred to H. M. S. Euryalus, one of the vessels of the Far Eastern squadron. About seven hundred men are affected by the pending transfer of naval ratings to the Orient station. The Lancaster's complement is expected to leave here about November 28, and will take passage to Hongkong by the C. P. O. S. liner Empress of Japan. Since her arrival on this coast the Lancaster has been under the command of Capt. Gresson. More recently Admiral Colomb joined the ship. It is not definitely known whether Admiral Colomb will remain on the North Pacific station, or return to the United Kingdom.

New Complement. The future disposition of the Lancaster is uncertain, but it is expected that the cruiser will remain on patrol duty on the Pacific for some time. This is indicated by the fact that a new complement of officers and men are already on their way out to Esquimalt from England to man the cruiser. This crew is reported to have sailed from England about November 15 and is expected to reach this coast toward the middle of December.

Had Famous Sisters. H. M. S. Euryalus, to which vessel the crew of the Lancaster is being transferred, is a sister ship to the cruiser Cross, Aboukir and Hogue, which were sunk by German submarines in the North Sea during the earlier stages of the war. She is a vessel of 12,000 tons displacement, her main armament being two 5.5-inch and twelve 6-inch guns. Her complement is 700 men.

SEVENTEEN ACRES OF CANVAS USED TO RIG FOUNDATION VESSELS

Puget Sound Firm Completes Record Sail-Making Contract

Seattle, Nov. 22.—Nearly seventeen acres of canvas were used by Erland & Co., Inc., of Seattle, in equipping sixteen of the Foundation Company's Tacoma-built wooden carriers with sails, the contract being the largest single order of the kind in the history of Puget Sound. It was completed by the Seattle concern Wednesday and involved an expenditure of more than $100,000.

Work on the contract was begun by Erland & Co. last December and eight of the firm's sailmaking machines ran continuously in carrying out the great order. The ships built by the Foundation plant in Tacoma were ordered by the French Government. All told, twenty big auxiliary-powered wooden schooners were built for the French and the Erland plant obtained the contract for equipping sixteen with sails. In fulfilling the contract, the Erland plant used 725,769 square feet of canvas or virtually seventeen acres. It also used nine and a half tons of rope and two and a half tons of hardware, the latter including cringles, thimbles, clew rings and grommet rings. The rigging is a round ring, while the thimbles are of the same material. The round solid ring used at the reef points in the sails.

The Seattle plant handled the contract on schedule, fulfilling the huge order without halt or delay. According to New York advices the steamship Mohopac, better known on this coast as the former Great Northern liner Minnesota, paid for herself on her first two war voyages in the trans-Atlantic service. The huge vessel has the largest cargo capacity of any ship afloat, and she proved very useful in helping to keep supplies moving to Europe. The war zone fleet refers to her as the "floating warehouse."

STEAMSHIP CARIB IN NO DANGER ON LONG ISLAND COAST

New York, Nov. 22.—The American steamship Carib, which went ashore in a heavy fog off Port Lockout, L. I. yesterday, appeared to be in no danger. Naval vessels standing by were expected to drag the Carib off before nightfall.

LINER PROTESILAUS ARRIVES AT SEATTLE

New York, Nov. 22.—Arrived: Str. Oscar II, Copenhagen.

LIGHTKEEPER TRANSFERRED.

H. T. W. Smith, formerly keeper of the Nootka Light station, has been transferred as keeper of the light and fog alarm at Cape Mudge.

While sea-fishing with a friend a doctor lost his sinker. Rattling out the day's fishing shot, he hit upon the happy idea of utilizing his flask. The bottle was filled with water, carefully corked, and sent down on its mission. A few minutes later the doctor was lucky enough to pull up a pair of white fish, one on each hook. "Ha, doctor!" exclaimed the companion, "twins this time!" "Yes," replied the doctor, with a smile, "and brought up on the bottle, too!"

SUNK IN FIRTH OF FOURTH

London, Nov. 22.—The steamer Campania, once Queen of the sea, has sunk in the Firth of Forth, off the coast of Scotland, during a gale. All on board the ship were saved.

The Campania broke from her moorings during the gale and collided with a battleship. She sank before she could be beached. The date of the sinking of the vessel has not been made public.

The Campania, a former Cunard line trans-Atlantic liner for several years, has been a motor ship for seaplanes in the British navy. In 1903 the Campania made a record voyage from New York to Queenstown in five days,

TRAVELERS WERE ATTACKED BY "FLU" ON OCEAN VOYAGE

Twenty Steerage Passengers Were Under Treatment on Liner Manila Maru

Fifteen days out from Yokohama the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Manila Maru, Capt. Kobayashi, reached port this morning with 252 passengers and 8,955 tons of general Oriental cargo. The "flu" germ invaded the passenger quarters during the voyage with the result that twenty of the steerage travelers were prostrated by the scourge. The victims of the prevailing epidemic, however, had recovered sufficiently to be around upon the completion of the voyage. Splendid weather was experienced throughout the trans-Pacific passage.

The most important items in the liner's cargo were 2,023 bales of raw silk and 736 tons of coconut oil, the latter being an unusually large shipment of its kind for a regular liner. The local cargo consisted of 3,715 packages and was made up of raw silk, bamboo poles, rice, coconut oil, bean paste, electric bulbs, dried fish and silk goods.

The raw silk shipment, destined for the Eastern markets, is valued at about $2,000,000. For Seattle the liner has 4,320 tons of cargo, for Tacoma 4,757 tons, and for Vancouver 1,656 tons.

William Arthur Price, a British mechanical engineer, was the only European passenger in the cabin accommodation. He boarded the ship at Shanghai.

After discharging her local cargo and disembarking 122 passengers for Seattle and Tacoma.

MOHOPAC HAD MANY NARROW ESCAPES

Former Minnesota Presented Easy Mark to Submarines When Disabled

According to New York advices the steamship Mohopac, better known on this coast as the former Great Northern liner Minnesota, paid for herself on her first two war voyages in the trans-Atlantic service. The huge vessel has the largest cargo capacity of any ship afloat, and she proved very useful in helping to keep supplies moving to Europe. The war zone fleet refers to her as the "floating warehouse."

The former Minnesota is rated as a lucky ship, the big carrier having had some remarkable experiences while operating in the war zone. She was not fast enough to travel with the speed convoys and appears to have played something of a lone hand, but luck was always hovering in her vicinity. For instance she broke down last August in submarine-infested waters. She not only broke down, but she stayed broken down for eighteen days, yet not a diver attacked her or made any attempt to attack her, although she was probably one of the "easiest marks" ever presented to the underwater pirate. It is believed that the German submarine commanders feared that she was being used as a decoy or trap. In any event, they stayed clear of her.

The Mohopac is still operating between American Atlantic ports and Europe. Before the war, as the Minnesota, she was regularly employed in the trans-Pacific trade out of Seattle. Capt. Thomas Garlick has remained faithfully by his charge during her war activities.

BRITISH PASSPORT REGULATIONS MODIFIED

C. F. Earle, local agent for the Cunard Line, advises having to-day received a wire to the effect that British passport regulations have been considerably modified, and that the decision hereafter will be permitted to travel more freely in both directions on the Atlantic.

PROMOTION BY MERIT THE NEW WATCHWORD

Country Civil Service Will Keep Company With British Columbia

When the Civil Service of British Columbia is about to enter into a new method of control and the task of grading and classifying is passing over to the newly appointed Civil Service Commission, it is interesting to note that even in conservative England "promotion by merit" has invaded a Government Department—the Board of Inland Revenue is going to make promotion a matter of merit. It intends to set up a system of departmental committees, whose business it will be to look out for young men of brains in the service and to recommend them for promotion to positions of greater responsibility and usefulness.

2 YEARS AGO

A rash broke out on my hands and the doctor told me it was eczema. He writes Mrs. McDonald, of Oyster Ponds, N.S. She adds: "In spite of the doctor's treatment had sores appeared, which gradually spread more and more. Finding that the doctor's treatment did me no good, I turned to various so-called remedies, but I met with no relief. "Knowing how terribly serious eczema is and how it will sometimes defy all treatment for years, I became almost discouraged. This was my state when I read about Zam-Buk and decided to give it a trial. By the time I had used one box the eczema was not so bad. The inflammation and the irritation were subsiding. Naturally I persevered with Zam-Buk, and as I did so the disease was gradually overcome. Day by day the sores got less and less and, to my delight, the disease was finally driven out entirely. It seemed almost too good to be true and I feared the eczema might break out again, so I waited several months to make sure that I was permanently cured. I am; and Zam-Buk deserves all the praise."

REV. A. H. SYKES NOW TESTIFIES

Believes It His Duty to Let Facts in Wife's Case Be Known

It is seldom, indeed, that men of prominence, especially ministers of the Gospel, willingly express their indebtedness publicly to a proprietary medicine. However, when a medicine obtains of the singular ability and efficiency that is shown by the uniform preparation, Tanlac, statements from our best citizens are to be considered thoroughly commensurate with the good that is actually being accomplished.

Rev. A. H. Sykes, pastor of the Watkins Park Presbyterian Church, Nashville, Tenn., prominent not only as a minister of the Gospel, but popular as a man and citizen, who has been true to his friends and every trust, said recently:

"For the past ten months Mrs. Sykes has been in very delicate health, suffering both from stomach and kidney trouble, which gradually developed into a general nervous breakdown. At times her condition was so bad that I frequently sought medical advice, but nothing I could do for her seemed to bring any relief. In fact, she suffered so long and so much that I feel it my duty to let everyone know what Tanlac has done for her. For several years her condition was such that she had to remain in bed, and when Tanlac was placed on sale here several weeks ago, I was very much interested in what I read in the papers regarding the treatment, and decided, as a last resort, to give it a trial.

"I am a conservative man," continued Rev. Sykes, "and have always been skeptical regarding the use of proprietary medicines, but this case has certainly proved an exception. Tanlac has finally convinced me that Tanlac is a medicine of great power and extraordinary merit. I do not think I have ever seen anything give such prompt results."

"Mrs. Sykes had only taken two-thirds of a bottle of this medicine when we began noticing a marked improvement in her condition. In less than a week from the time she began taking it, she was able to sit up and to-day is able to assist with the household duties."

"Before she began taking Tanlac, she had fearful pains in her side and suffered constantly with sour stomach and indigestion, and was intensely nervous. These distressing symptoms, I am thankful to say, have entirely disappeared. Her appetite has returned and she seems to enjoy everything she eats. She also sleeps better, and is gaining flesh and strength rapidly. I think it is only a question of a short time now until her health will be fully restored."

"Tanlac," concluded Rev. Sykes, "has certainly proved a remarkable remedy. In her case and will do all you claim for it. I cheerfully recommend it to all of my friends and will take pleasure in giving anyone who is interested full details regarding my wife's case."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell.—Adv.

WEED SEED IN CLOVER

Pamphlet by Dominion Seed Analyst
Has Just Been Issued.

While there are only a few kinds of weed seeds which are commonly found in red clover seed, in quantities sufficient to cause it to be prohibited from sale under "The Seed Control Act," it is yet very necessary that the seed for sowing be as pure as possible. It is not easy to say how much damage to soil, and injury to livestock, may be caused by impurities in red clover seed. For this reason "Pamphlet S-2" prepared by the Dominion Seed Analyst, and just issued by the Seed Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, is one that should command wide and general attention from farmers. "The Seed Control Act" prohibits the sale of red clover seed if it contains more than eighty seeds of noxious weeds or 400 of all kinds of weed seeds per ounce. The pamphlet referred to, which can be had free on application to the Publications Branch, Ottawa, tells of the maximum number of weed seeds per ounce that are permitted in the different crops of timothy, red clover, alfalfa and alsike, and describes with exactitude the steps that are necessary to purify the seed. Information is given of the relative prevalence of weed seeds; of the methods of eradication of weeds, as regards testing, and instructions for sowing and sending to the branch to be tested. A series of exact illustrations of the commonest weed seeds and of sieves necessary for their removal are given in the pamphlet.

ESQUIMALT WAR MEMORIAL.

To the Editor.—Apropos of the report in your issue of yesterday as to the probable selection of the front of the municipal hall as the site of the memorial to the Esquimalt men who gave their lives for their country in the great war, to my mind there is no other place for it. And now that the war is practically over it is likely that the Municipality will replace the present cheap temporary municipal offices with a decent building, such as the buildings of the Municipalities of Oak Bay and Saanich, and thus give a good background to the memorial.

WHAT ABOUT THE KAISER?

To the Editor.—An event greater probably in historical importance, has just been consummated by the declaration of peace.

The whole world's community, in a common, unique partnership, directly or indirectly, has participated in this gruesome war. Civilization is stricken with grief, in every quarter of the globe. Down which a groaning diapason runs, "From tortured brothers, husbands, lovers, sons."

Of desolate women in far-off homes, waiting to hear the step that never comes.

Christianity has been defiled, ridiculed, and its beneficence impaired to an extent hitherto undreamed, since the inception of Christ. All through the agency of an infinitesimal clique of Prussian barbaric demons!

Without a threat of justification or the semblance of a cause, these brutal cowards of Germany sallied forth for world confiscation saturated in boastful lust, greed and abomination. Flaunting an alleged invincibility, girdled with the direct of warfare's mechanical and chemical surprises, robed in by-pocrisy and a halo of brazen-gadecoloured heads, these fiends in human form enlisted, cajoled, and peremptorily forced their subjects into that devastating carnage. The innocents of humanity now have the legacy of appalling penalties to suffer.

The villain of this tragedy, the ex-Kaiser, is still in possession of his freedom. Forty years' cold-blooded calculation in destruction, has so pickled the hide of this arrogant, conceited fanatic, that he may be capable even yet of enjoying freedom. Surrender, self-destruction, or—perhaps madness—must have proved the inevitable fate of any normal conscience; not so with the ex-Kaiser. With deliberate premeditation, he had fought, fouled, and finally failed.

He sought to violate our professions of equity, our solicitude for humanity, or craving of democracy, by permission of liberty to this loathsome monster and his gaudy satellites. Revenge is sweet, but that is trivial compared with the justice demanded by a sorrowful world, that this group of foul murderers be brought to the bar of fellowship without delay.

Forty years assiduously forging a chain of barbarous design, the achievement of this "All Highest Military War Lord." Force of necessity supplied no reason for this despot. Germany already possessed rich fertile home lands, colonies for expansion, industrial cities teeming with working multitudes. In spite of the fact that she was trying to capture the world for her manufactures, liberal welcomes were extended her subjects to share her luxury. In the prosperity and administration of other countries. How has that confidence and trust been observed?

We cannot fittingly express our thanks to Providence, and the boys who sacrificed so nobly, to snap asunder that circle of cruel steel, while ignoring the fact that the most dangerous link is still intact. In the name of Christianity, humanity, and democracy, "Kaiser" in name and substance, must vanish into abject degraded obliteration. Distinguished, however, as the most contemptible humanized brute, escaped from the happy hunting grounds of apes.

ITALY FOR DEMOCRACY.

To the Editor.—Had Italy not refused to join Germany in her mad attempt for world supremacy the present world would have been a different place. At that time Premier Giolitti was at the head of the Italian Government. His policy was strongly pro-German, but he knew then that he would not have had the support of the Italian people had he made any promise to the German autocracy. Giolitti was still in office when the war broke out in 1914, and he declared the neutrality of Italy. The whole nation was aroused by the barbarous and sudden attack by Germany on Belgium and France, and the majority of the people would have had declared on Germany immediately. Thousands of Italian Volunteers, headed by the famous Garibaldi, joined the French army.

Italy was not militarily prepared for war, but in compliance with the wish of her people, she assured France that no attack would be made on her, and by withdrawing all the French troops from the Italian frontier France was helped to win the battle of the Marne. During the following months of Italian apparent neutrality, German intrigues, headed by the famous Prince von Bulow, tried without success to poison the mind of the Italian people. Giolitti, who by the way was a great friend of von Bulow, was ousted from the Premiership, and Salandra, a great champion of the cause of democracy, was chosen Premier. Salandra had for his immediate co-operators Orlando, the present Premier, and Sonnino, the present Foreign Secretary.

Immediately after their election a firm attitude was taken towards Austria-Hungary, compelling her to recall a large proportion of her troops from the eastern and western fronts to be concentrated on the Italian frontiers, and after hurried preparations and at a crucial moment when the fortunes of the Allies were growing from bad to worse, Italy, supported by the whole population, plunged into the conflict for the cause of democracy by declaring war on Austria-Hungary on May 25, 1915, and upon Germany a few months later.

The glorious Italian soldiers carried the struggle on the snow and ice-covered Alps, across the terrible Isonzo River and on the arid and treacherous Carso plateau, with untold sacrifices. It is a well-known fact that the defeat at Caporetto, the only defeat suffered by the Italian army in this war, was due to German intrigue and treachery, but the Italian armies have redeemed this a hundredfold, arresting the invading enemy, superior in number, at Piave River before the arrival of the assistance from their Allies.

Italy's heart bled at the spectacle of her invaded territory. Once more the Teutonic hordes displayed the same barbarous behavior towards women and children who showed in their invasion of Belgium, Serbia and Northern France.

The Italian nation undaunted and with grim determination reorganized for the triumph of democracy. Her soldiers gave a noble account of themselves on June last by defeating the Austrian army on the Piave River, and lately by inflicting a complete defeat on the enemy, compelling him to make unconditional surrender.

The Italian women, from the wealthiest to the humblest, played a prominent and noble part in the final success. By the thousands they took up nursing in hospitals, ploughing the fields, working in the munition factories, and in fact replaced the men in almost every branch of war. Some even insisted on going to dig trenches for the soldiers on the battlefield. But, alas! What a price has Italy paid for that triumph of democracy? Official statistics are not yet available, but estimates give the number of her casualties as over 3,000,000, half of which are killed or missing, and many of the rest permanently invalids.

TO-DAY'S AMUSEMENTS

Royal Victoria—Theda Bara in "The Forbidden Path."
Dominion—Billie Burke in "In Pursuit of Polly."
Variety—Douglas Fairbanks in "The Half-Breed."
Columbia—Mary Anderson and Alfred Whitman in "When Men Are Tempted."
Romano—Harry Carey and Molly Malone in "The Scarlet Drop."
Pantages—Vaudeville.

ROYAL VICTORIA

There is no doubt about the success of such productions as "The Forbidden Path," starring Theda Bara, which will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria again to-night. This is a photoplay that has the happy knack of holding the attention of any audience right through, the slight touches of comedy and dramatic interest have been so closely interwoven that any audience would hardly care to miss a little bit of it. On the same programme is also shown "Paragon," Mack-Sennett comedy starring Ben Turpin, the well-known comedian. This picture alone is a feature and is the cause of a great deal of merriment.

ROMANO

In "The Scarlet Drop," this week's opening feature at the Romano, Harry Carey plays the role of Kaintuck Cass, who was so poor he couldn't afford to wear shoes even during the coldest weather of the Kentucky mountains. If he had his aged mother would have gone hungry. But poverty failed to kill his love for his country. When the Civil War was declared "Kaintuck" wanted to join the aristocratic company from his home county and fight with the North. The aristocrats didn't want any "white trash," so "Kaintuck" was barred from the company. From a distance he loved the sister of the commander of the company, but he could only admire her from a distance. Declare his love? No. So when "Kaintuck" couldn't fight with the company he turned outlaw. Finally the girl he had loved was captured by his band and then—Well, it's easy to guess what happened.

VARIETY

In "The Half-Breed," pictured version of Bret Harte's wonderful book, "In the Carquinez Woods," is the feature attraction at the Variety today and for the remainder of the week. Douglas Fairbanks plays the role of the poor Indian, Low, and never was his golden smile and wonderful personality more suitably employed than in this great drama. Alma Rubens portrays Teresa, the abandoned woman of the dance halls, and her wistful beauty and sympathetic interpretation of an appealing role stamp her as an actress of the rarest talents.

COLUMBIA

The second novel by Frederick Upham Adams to be selected by Albert E. Smith, Vitaphone president, to be pictured by Vitaphone is "John Burt," which is an adaptation of "When Men Are Tempted." The Greater Vitaphone Blue Ribbon Feature to be seen at the Columbia again to-day. The great success which attended the "green" adaptation of the first, "The Bottom of the Heart," has far exceeded, by this fascinating drama of love, loyalty and intrigue, in which a young man, John Burt, hides himself in the West branded as a criminal, to protect the name of the girl he loves. She follows and clears his name and helps

Helen Moretti, who is one of the attractions on the highly popular bill of Pantages vaudeville this week, was discovered by Enrico Caruso. The discovery was made through a discord. Years ago Helen sang in the chorus of the Metropolitan opera house, New York. During rehearsals for Pagliacci the chorus in singing an ensemble uttered a fearful discord. Caruso demanded that each of the chorus girls sing in solo the melody which they had "fluffed." Miss Moretti was one of the girls who was able to reach the height necessary. Caruso asked her to step aside until after the test. She, of course did so. Later Caruso trained her himself and was successful in obtaining for her a minor part in the production.

There are six good acts on the Pantages bill now offering, and it was paved an exceptionally popular programme following the long period of theatreless days.

RD EXTENDS VACATION PERIOD

School Trustees Will Re-

chool Trustees will re-open Buildings on December 2.

There will not be a general resumption of school life in this district today. Although the lifting of the ban in the City, Oak Bay and Esquimalt occurred this week, the City Board, at its meeting late yesterday, determined to follow a course which had been taken on the previous day in Vancouver, and extend the closing until December 2.

The alteration has led to Principal Martin receiving numerous inquiries as to whether there has been any change in policy already announced for the following Monday.

in this plan, the Principal states and classes will resume as announced at the meeting of the Victoria Board of Education yesterday afternoon, on a motion of Trustee Deaville, seconded by Trustee Mrs. Andrews, it was decided to postpone the opening of all city schools until Monday, December 15, pending the schools.

The Board considered it advisable to make this move in order to see whether or not as a result of lifting the ban on public gatherings there would be any increase in the number of influenza cases, and a week is a long sample time in which to discuss this situation.

Board suggests, however, that the week of study lost by the pupils as a result of this decision, might be made up by reducing the Christmas holidays.

ation would have no objection to realizing this to be done. In the latter suggestion, however, happily met with some adverse comment from a number of parents and students who voiced their objection to an abatement of the Christmas holidays. Oak Bay and Esquimalt the decision had been to re-open on Monday but in view of the action of the board, there may be some alteration. It is stated to-day, in Saanich the schools remain closed, as the school year has not yet been lifted from the municipality.

OFFICIAL'S SISTER SUCCEUMBS IN FRANCE

Nursing Sister McDonald, With 91st American Division, Victim of Pneumonia

Cabled advices reached W. T. McDonald, Livestock Commissioner and Acting-Deputy Minister of Agriculture, at the Parliament Buildings this morning to the effect that his sister, Nursing Sister Elizabeth McDonald, had died from pneumonia in France. Nurse McDonald was in her twenty-seventh year a fully qualified registered nurse in the United States, and offered her services to the American military authorities in January last. She was a graduate of Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago, one of the highest rated institutions on the American continent, taking her degrees in the latter part of 1912. Following a brief training period in the Eastern States, Miss McDonald was officially attached to the 91st Division at Camp Lewis in the early summer and left with the nursing detachment attached to the Division soon afterwards. She is a native of Teeswater, Ontario. Livestock Commissioner McDonald has a brother in France with the 6th Canadian Highlanders, Private M. P. McDonald, who volunteered before the war was many days old. Severely wounded once and a victim of trench fever soon after his recovery, Private McDonald has been more recently engaged in clerical work in France by reason of unfitness for the front line.

SOIL AND CROP

Everett W. Hogan Follows H. O. English in Soil and Crop Division of Agricultural Dept.

In the room of H. O. English, who left the service of the Provincial Department of Agriculture a few days ago, Everett W. Hogan, has assumed the control of the Soil and Crop Division as Chief Inspector. Mr. Hogan has been associated with this branch of the Department for three years, and latterly has carried out a good deal of the field work which he will continue to conduct while making his headquarters at the Parliament Buildings. Before coming to British Columbia Mr. Hogan was in charge of an experimental station at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, while from his early youth he has followed the rural occupation in which he has become an expert.

To Help Soldiers' Families.—A pleasing outcome of the Veterans' Field Day, held August 24, when returned men from Victoria went to Camp Lewis to fraternize with the men in the U.S. army in training at the big cantonment, is a donation of $225 which Major-General Leckie has received for distribution among the soldier families in need of assistance. A sum of $25 will be given to the nine most deserving cases that can be selected.

Esquimalt Police.—In a session of the Esquimalt Police Court, held yesterday afternoon, David Spencer, Ltd., was fined $10 for being the owners of a motor car which was driven in excess of the speed limit on Esquimalt Road, and Mrs. W. F. Workman was fined $16 for allowing cows to graze on the roadways of the municipality unattended.

PRaises Efforts of DUGOUT WORKERS IN VICTORY LOAN DRIVE

Was Clever Device With Marvellous Results, Says W. H. Malkin

High praise for the soldiers who originated the Victory Loan Dugout during the big bond drive, and for the men who worked to attain the big total which was recorded towards the amount Victoria subscribed comes from W. H. Malkin, Chairman of the Victory Loan for British Columbia. "The aggregate is nothing short of marvellous," says Mr. Malkin in a letter to Major A. E. Jukes, which reads as follows:

"My attention has been drawn to the magnificent subscription record which your military organization has added to the annals of Victory Loan canvassing in the Province of British Columbia. The aggregate is nothing short of marvellous and betokens, apart from the originality involved in the clever device of a sale 'dugout,' an untiring application on the part of the men engaged in the task as well as a capacity for organization of an unsurpassably effective sort. "On behalf of the Executive Committee of the Victory Loan I offer you hearty congratulations and shall be glad if you will find opportunity of conveying to Sgt. R. M. King and his aides my personal thanks."

QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S OUT OF QUARANTINE

Conditions at Prince Rupert Better; Squamish-Clinton Section Improved

Quarantine restrictions which have isolated the Queen Charlotte Islands for the past few weeks, as a preventive measure against the spread of Spanish influenza, were lifted by Provincial Order-in-Council this morning. Action was taken by the Provincial Board of Health on learning that conditions in Prince Rupert had very considerably improved during the last few days. From a report received by Dr. Young from Dr. Newton, the medical man sent by the Government by special train over the line of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, it is gathered that the general situation along the whole of the section traversed by the system has very materially improved, since the doctor has arrived at Squamish en route to this city. Reports from Kamloops still occasion the Department some anxiety. There is an improvement noted in the city itself, but from the outlying sections some tales of considerable suffering, aggravated by lack of nursing accommodation. The North Thompson

Great War Veterans and Comrades of Great War May Join Forces

At many meetings of the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association during the last few months there has been unmistakable evidence manifested in favor of taking a course calculated to bring the two premier organizations together—the G. W. V. A. and the Comrades of the Great War. Qualifications for membership in both Associations are practically identical, while the aims and objects of the two differ only in minor details.

Many indications.
The Vancouver Island correspondent of The British Columbia Veterans' Weekly, writing in the current issue, has the following observations to make on the subject: "Indications of an early amalgamation of the G. W. V. A. and Comrades of the Great War."

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH AS APPLIED TO ARTS

Advisory Council Reports What Is Being Done in British Columbia

The first official report of the work being accomplished by the Honorary Advisory Council for Scientific Research reached Victoria yesterday. More than a year ago the chairman (Dr. A. B. McCallum), Dr. Adams and Dr. Rutland were here on their western investigation, one of the fruits of which was the appointment of a committee for British Columbia, representing the engineering and allied professions. Some of the efforts of the scientists engaged on British Columbia investigations are of special interest.

Tar Fog Recovery.
The Council, recognizing the national importance of conserving economically the products of destructive distillation of wood, coal and the liquid products produced during the manufacture of producer gas, engaged Dr. J. G. Davidson, of the University of British Columbia, to make investigation "on a commercial scale."
The principle was the application of the Cottrell precipitation process to the recovery of the heavy liquid and solid matter passing over in the hot gases resulting from distillation. Preliminary experiments had shown Dr. Davidson that a very effective separation of the heavy materials from water and gas could be effected by the electrical discharge in the Cottrell system. A plant on a commercial scale was established at Sault Ste. Marie, in connection with the coke works in that centre. Numerous difficulties developed in the course of the experiments owing to the clogging of the pipes by tar, and the short circuiting of the system brought about by carbon particles. Great delay also occurred owing to the difficulty of obtaining machinery and equipment. Dr. Davidson was required to pick up one by one and assemble the portions of several of the units required.

The plant was assembled at the beginning of December, 1917, and in April, 1918, the major portion of working on a large scale had been overcome, and the process demonstrated that a great saving could be effected in recovering the products of the destructive distillation of wood and tar, as these can be separated from steam and gas at a high temperature so that subsequent evaporation and treatment of the water mixture were avoided.
This process will probably be utilized by several of the distillation plants in Canada in the near future. Dr. Davidson intends to make his interest in this process in some way a public asset when it is developed. The installation and power costs of this process are low and the action has been shown to be very effective.

Industrial Alcohol.
In connection with the production of ethyl alcohol from other sources than grain, the report is very favorable to British Columbia on account of the length of the season suitable for securing wet sawdust, and the abundance of material. It is necessary to obtain about 300 to 5500 tons of wet sawdust per day in one locality to make the process commercial, and this should be delivered at a cost of a little more than 50 cents to 75 cents per ton to the converter; 300 tons of moist sawdust will yield about 50,000 pounds of alcohol, or about 30,000 pounds of alcohol per day. This alcohol is now produced in the United States at a cost of about 20 cents to 40 cents per gallon of 95 per cent. strength.

Kelp Industry.
Investigations show a bright future before the potash industry on this Coast, in its production from kelp. It was found that the ash from the soft woods of British Columbia and from straw did not yield potash in commercial quantities.

It is a fine story that comes from Blighly, of a Tommy who was having tea in a garden with some kind-old ladies whom he was entertaining with accounts of his experiences in Flanders. Every time he said "Wipers" one of the ladies murmured "Esprir." Later, Tommy, when asked by his mates what sort of a time he had, said: "Oh, fair enough, only one of the old ladies had the hiccups bad. I kind of 'ated to go on with my story and not 'elp er!"

HER DAUGHTER WAS SAVED FROM OPERATION

Mrs. Wells of Petersburg Tells How.

Petersburg, Va.—"For two years my daughter suffered from a weakness and pains in her right side; at times she was so bad she could not do any work. For two years she was attended by the best physicians here, and both agreed that she would have to be operated on. I suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at first she refused to take it, but finally consented. From the very beginning it helped her, and now she is entirely well, and telling everybody how much good it has done her."—Mrs. W. D. WELLS, 236 North Adams Street, Petersburg, Va.

If every girl who suffers as Miss Wells did, or from irregularities, painful periods, backache, headache, dragging down pains, inflammation or ulceration would only give this famous root and herb remedy a trial they would soon find relief from such suffering.

For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years experience is at your service.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP TO CANADIAN COMMANDER

British Campaigners' Association Honor General Sir Arthur Currie

With business and correspondence accumulated during the period of the Spanish influenza, Jan. the regular monthly meeting of the British Campaigners' Association held in the A. O. F. Hall last night was largely concerned with routine matters.

Several applications for membership were received and read up, and as a tribute to the gallant commander of the Canadian Army in France, life membership in the Victoria British Campaigners' Association was conferred upon Lieut.-Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, K. C., M. G., C. B., Frank Gloima, member-elect for the City of Victoria, was also admitted to membership in the organization.

At the invitation of the Real Estate Exchange to appoint a representative of the organization to sit on the Board, charged with the hearing of complaints regarding alleged inflation of rentals in cases where tenancy is held either by returned men or their dependents, Resumptio Rogers was designated to take part in such business on behalf of the Campaigners.

Secretary Halsall was instructed to purchase war ribbons from the Old Country for disposal where necessary to members.

JUDGMENT GIVEN IN INTERESTING CASE

Action Against Saanich for Damages is Non-Suited by Judge Lampman

Judge Lampman has given judgment of non-suit, with costs to be paid by the plaintiff, in the action of Howcroft vs. the Municipality of Saanich, which was tried in the County Court this week.

The plaintiff resides in Saanich and is a motorman employed by the B. C. Electric Railway Company. While on the way home late one night in company with another motorman named Robinson, a loose plank in the sidewalk on Boleakin Road, opposite the old Tolmie School, flew up and injured Howcroft's wrist.

The men replaced the plank without examining it to see if it had ever been nailed down, but Robinson thought that from the ease with which it was replaced that there were no nails in it. There was a hole in the plank and underneath there was something that looked like a meter.

The plaintiff alleged that the defendant erected and maintained the sidewalk, which was denied by the Municipality, and no evidence was given by plaintiff as to when the sidewalk was laid or as to who laid it. G. H. Barnard, K. C., for the defence, argued that on the facts adduced no case was made out.

The judgment continues: "The question seems to me purely one of fact, and unless there is some statutory enactment that every sidewalk on a road in a municipality shall be deemed to have been built by the municipality, it seems to me impossible to hold that the municipality built this sidewalk. By the Municipality Act, R. S. B. C. 1911, cap. 170, sec. 370, the possession of public roads is vested in the municipality, and by sec. 53, sec. 174, authority is given the municipality to make and repair roads, but there is no enactment that it must either make or repair roads. Taking the view which I indicated, it is obvious that it would be premature to discuss or apply the case referred to in the argument, but I may refer to the fact that in Mackenzie v. Surrey it was shown that the settlers had done some road making on at least two different occasions without authority from the municipal council of the district.

There will be judgment of non-suit with costs to be paid by the plaintiff." J. A. Aikman appeared for the plaintiff.

Occasionally when a man doesn't know what to say, his silence is mistaken for a superior brand of wisdom.
